"Revive Associates use Lean & Six Sigma tools to clearly define objectives & timescales, with a focus on return on investment. We are confident that our skills deliver & are willing to work on a risk & reward basis."

Revive Associates

Our approach is derived from many years of practical application of Lean & Six Sigma to eliminate waste, reduce variation & maximise efficiency such as:

- Reducing inventory
- Optimising the workplace
- Reducing fixed operating costs
- Increasing available capacity in key assets
- Improving service quality
- Reducing cycle times

These efficiencies have largely been achieved with minimal capital investment by focussing on re-engineering existing processes.

We advocate a hands-on approach, working with your team to determine best practice solutions that deliver results that can be sustained.

"The Revive team have delivered a significant change of emphasis to our business, it has changed the fundamental way we look at things enabling us to spot areas of waste and non-value added activity. This is delivering significant benefits to our business, whilst equipping us with the skills to sustain these approaches in the future. The approaches to Health & Safety and Quality have particularly challenged our paradigms and are re-defining our performance levels well above the industry sector norms."
